

PERSONATION ALLEGED IN BYE-ELECTION

Premier Gives Opinion That the Investigation Should Be Carried Out by the Government

Ottawa, March 17.—There will be no inquiry by the committee on privileges and elections into charges against Secretary of State (charged with a conspiracy to rig the Commons today by L. J. Gauthier, the Liberal member for St. Hyacinthe). This was made clear soon after the charges were made, when Hon. C. D. Mitchell, minister of justice, refused to argue that the subject should be dealt with by the court under the Controverted Elections Act and not by the parliamentary committee. This view was supported by Premier Borden, while Sir Wilfrid Laurier contended that subsequent to the election there were developments which would fully justify reference to the committee including the fact that the charges were made by senators and the alleged appointment of one of them to the public

The allegations as set forth against the secretary of state by Mr. Gauthier were, in brief, that, in the absence of a writ of habeas corpus, in the absence of Mr. Coderre, a plan of impersonation had been perfected in connection with the Hochelaga bye-election held November 12, 1912, and that subsequent to the election Emile Bourassa and Elie Laumiere, two of the persons, had each been elected as members of the House of Commons, and that the Hon. J. A. G. Macdonald, Minister of the Interior, of Montreal, one of the organizers for Mr. Coderre.

Mr. Gauthier also read a letter from Mr. Coderre to Bourassa, written February 14, in which he promised to find him a congenial place in the public service. He concluded with a statement calling for an inquiry into the charges.

of three affidavits by Bourasse, La Jurnerie and Ellis Horner, all of whom, according to the affidavits, had threatened that unless they were released, they would expose the system of perjury, bribery and terrorism of the Montreal police. He read an affidavit by Tancrède Marché, a Montreal lawyer, telling how he accused the sworn declaration of the three men mentioned.

While Mr. Gauthier was in his place when Mr. Gauthier was speaking and reading the affidavits, denied the charges in toto. He said he would withdraw from the house until they had been dealt with. He then left the chamber.

Deny the Affidavits.

Hon. C. J. Doherty followed with a long speech during the early part of which he read affidavits from Bourasse, La Jurnerie and Horner, in which they denied that they had threatened the affidavits quoted by Mr. Gauthier.

They also denied having any knowledge whatever of a personation in connection with the election. Mr. St. John said that the personation, such as had been made, were not a fit subject for inquiry before the committee on privileges and elections. That according to long-established custom, any charges should be taken before the court. The inquiries had been relegated to the courts by parliament and that is where this matter should be tried. It was left open to anyone who considered that the charges had been made against the minister to take action before the courts as the period during which such action could be taken had not yet expired.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier.—I followed, took the view that there was in the charges other things than matters affecting the election of the minister.

BULLETIN NOT BEING CLUBBED INTO SILENCE

The Journal notes that W. R. Clarke, of Great Waterways fame, has entered action for libel against the Bulletin, claiming that it has injured his reputation or his interests, or both, or something else, to an extent for which $50,000 would be suitable compensation. The Bulletin, however, has no intention of publishing the speech of its leader in the Legislature an hour or so before the speech was delivered.

If the object was to assure the Journal's friends that efforts are being made to elude the Bulletin into silence on the A. and G. W. question, the service is fully appreciated and all due and proper acknowledgments are herewith tendered.

Meantime the Journal and all others concerned will kindly note that the Bulletin has continued to express its opinion of the A. and G. W. bargain, and of the Southern Pros' attempt to cheat the public, with freedom and regularity. Also that the Bulletin proposes to continue to do so to the end of the chapter as public interest may require.

VOTERS' LIST GANG LOBBYING AGAINST THE AMENDMENTS

Of course, the gang who tried to lead up the list last fall are lobbying the members of the Legislature against the amendments to the city charter. If they were not doing so that would be prima facie evidence that the amendments were no good. That they are doing so is all the evidence the members should want that the amendments are aimed at "the nigger in the wood-pile" and will pretty likely reach him if allowed to become operative.

One of these amendments provides that the tenant must make personal application to have his name put on the voters list. This for the reason that unless the tenant turns up personally the electoral roll in charge of the list has no knowledge that such individual really exists, save the word of the party who submits his name. This amendment is particularly objectionable to the gentlemen who last year were busy submitting names under which unqualified ballots could be cast. They prefer an arrangement by which Mr. Strongarm Ward Boss could turn up at the city hall whenever he felt like it and order a couple of the members reading his entry inserted in the list on the strength of his say-so.

Another amendment proposes that to qualify for a vote a tenant must reside in the city for the first of January, instead of from the first of May, as is now the case. This is a perfectly reasonable and proper alteration—and therefore heartily opposed by the gang. The man who has lived in the city from the first of January until mid-summer may fairly claim to have made his home here, and, therefore, entitled to a vote. But thousands of men from outside points come into the city by the first of May to find employment, work during the summer, and scatter to their homes late in the fall. Why should these men be given the privilege of electing the city council for the ensuing year, so that last day's work for the paying company or other contracting concern by which they have been employed and by whom they hope to be paid for the following summer? From the standpoint of those who want to see the votes of these casual residents to swamp the votes of tenant and property-owner, and to capture control of the city, the amendment is doubtless most objectionable. But it is objectionable because it proposes to keep the control of the city in the hands of those who have to stand the consequences of its affairs are badly managed, and out of the hands of those who lose nothing if its affairs are badly managed, and of those who could amass fortunes at the expense of the tenant and the property-owner if allowed to manage the city's affairs for their own purposes.

Remark on the Side

Any stick is good enough to beat a dog with, is it? Ask the man (if he is still alive) who near Rocky Mountain House, started to beat a dog with a loaded .22 rifle the other day.

Now that nature is becoming common in the province, it is interesting to hear that a lady in a neighboring town has discovered a good way to save her bills. She says she pastes them in a scrap.

A new ferry has been added to the list. In Brandon, where the tourist club has set the boys of the place going on a month-long sailing, some women and those who refuse to buy are immediately referred to headquarters.

"Red Deer has blossomed out into a city," remarks the News of that city, and, to continue the metaphor, it is now expected that this flower of the prairie will soon be a city that will be at once the pride and envy of the neighborhood.

Conductor Mills of Wainwright, in an unannounced visit, told the local paper says "It is not to be thought of as a good-looking and popular lady will much longer remain in single file. If singleness is bliss, it is a singular mistake to put the Wainwright spinster wise."

A Medicine Hat man who undertook to run an auto while carrying what is described as a "red-eye bag," has found it rather expensive. The jaundiced cost him $25 in the police court, while neglect to carry a light-colored "red-eye" bag, considered a misdemeanor, added to the same sum; and $50 was the amount demanded for driving in a manner dangerous to pedestrians—total, $100 and no less. It would seem, therefore, that in calculating the expense of some motor cars, the cost of the engine's liquid refreshment is a comparatively small item.

OLD BRIDGE IS CLOSED.

Southwark Bridge, London, after 100 years of service.

London, March 17.—After close up a half a century of service, Southwark bridge has borne its last vehicle. The last of the old type of Thames bridge, Southwark, since its opening has sustained much of London's transportation traffic. Narrow and crowded to the centre, the old bridge has been very much a relic of the past, and it has at last had to give up the modern fashion.

It will be nearly three years before the new Southwark bridge is open to the public, but in the interval of reconstruction a passenger ferry will be retained.

ROMANCE OUT SHORT BY A DEATH AT SEA

Mr. Minnie McNe, of Vancouver, had a romance with a Liberian sailor, and died same day.

Yokohama, March 16.—Three deaths at sea occurred on the liner Biala, which arrived here yesterday. The first was the death of a close friend of the deceased, who died of a heart attack. The second was the death of Mr. Minnie McNe, of Vancouver, B. C. She was found shortly after her death, suffering from an attack of apoplexy and died the same day. Her husband was in the ship, but was too weak to get to her side.

Mr. McNe was engaged to George F. Williams, a prominent Canadian who was expected to marry shortly after last night.

TWO FREIGHT TRAINS HAD HEAD-ON CRASH

At South of England's, British and West Coast Railway, King Brierley blocked a freight train, March 16, because of one of the engines running its own independent. The two freight trains, running at full speed, crashed together head-on, resulting in a close call at half-past five o'clock when the freight train, headed by the engine of the Canadian Pacific, ran into the freight train of the British and West Coast Railway. The collision resulted in the death of one of the engines and a number of injuries. The train was badly wrecked and the engine of the British and West Coast Railway was blocked all day yesterday and prevented the regular freight train from leaving the Albermarle branch to Kilm.

Fewer Labor Disputes.

Ottawa, March 17.—A continued increase in the number of labor disputes is reported by the Department of Labor during February in regard to conditions from the standpoint of industrial disputes. The number of employees involved in strikes and lockouts during February were over three hundred less than the number during the preceding month. Similarly affected, while the number of working days lost was less than in the preceding month, the number of working days lost was less than in the preceding month. Eleven disputes actually commenced during February, only two of which affected more than 100 men.

Plymouth Hotel Destroyed.

A Stranger in the Aisle

To English-speaking people there are few institutions that command more general interest than the Anglican Church. From the first of the century a link between the spiritual development of Roman Catholicism and the spiritual development of Anglicanism, the Anglican Church has been a special place in the life of the people who believe in the future reunion of Christians. The Anglican Church is a church of compromise, and its members are divided into two camps. One camp is divided into two camps, and the other camp is divided into two camps. Any hard Anglican, newly arrived from the old country, would have regarded the large congregation yesterday morning at St. John's Church on Third Street, where before the stranger had visited the church and his memory of the service had been such as to leave a mark.

It was, from Sunday and the second Sunday of the day that the stranger had visited the church and his memory of the service had been such as to leave a mark. Two Million Feet of Gas Discovered in Third Well at Athabasca Landing

Geyser of Rocks and Mud Shoots From Well When Drilled Past What They Believed to Be Main Gas Strata—Landing Company Interested in Discovery.

(Special to the Capital.)
Athabasca Landing, March 17.—With a roar which could be heard a mile away, the Athabasca Drilling Company today struck a gas gusher which is estimated at 2,000,000 feet every twenty-four hours. The company, which is composed for the most part of local men, has just begun to indicate this one with only indifferent success. When the gas strata was tapped this morning, the derrick and other machinery over the well was hoisted to one side and mud and water hurried fifty feet in the air. These in clouds of the drilling are greatly elated over their success and predict that the well will run at least 2,000,000 feet per day. Arrangements have been completed for tapping the well and in the near future the production of gas for industries in the town will be taken up. A pressure of this size would not indicate that the main gas strata has been tapped and will be a real thing. This being so, the amount of gas which would be available for use, through this well and other wells, cannot be estimated.

Excitement Caused by Asphalt Discovery

Find Located by Thomas Redfern, Manager of Local Chemical Plant. People of District Believe Mineral Is In Investable Quantities.

(Special to the Bulletin)

Morinville, Feb. 26.—Quite a lot of excitement has been caused in this town lately due to the discovery of a large bed of asphalt, three miles west of the town.

While it has been generally understood that there were deposits of asphalt in this vicinity, it was hardly thought that any great quantity existed. On the quarter section asphalt was discovered, and an experiment was made in charge of Mr. Thomas Redfern, manager of the local Chemical Plant, who charged a hole with powder and blew out a large quantity of it.

Mr. Redfern, who is a chemist, states in his opinion there is an incalculable quantity of this asphalt, and as it runs to within five feet of the surface of the ground, no difficulty will be encountered in taking it out.

A company is being formed for the purpose of utilizing this asphalt, and it is so close to railroads and large markets, it should be in a very short time become an important factor in the development of Morinville and district, but especially for paving the city of Edmonton, which lies almost at the very door of this bed.

Asphalt within 25 miles of Edmonton and right on two railroads. Think what this means provided our expectations are realized and the prove to be as large a deposit as we confidently believe it to be.

We are appealing to the public for the necessary funds to make an immediate start with the development of this property, but we are offering absolute security to all investors as we also owned 1920 acres of proved asphalt land at Fort McKay, situated in the largest asphalt field in the world.

We are offering speculative chances with the safety of a guaranteed security. 100,000 shares on sale at 25c. plus value $1.00 per share.

Situation in Europe Resulting From Kaiser's Warlike Proposal Is Eased by British Premier's Statement That England Was Not Bound to Send Force to Aid France

London, March 17.—Europe has felt the weight of the Kaiser's warlike proposals. The situation was eased by the statement of the British premier, Mr. Asquith, that England was not bound to send force to aid France.

Asquith's Statement.

The thing that helped most in easing the situation is probably Premier Asquith's declaration in the House of Commons that England is not bound to send force to aid France.

The statement, of course, aroused no surprise, as it was a matter of fact that it is one of the wisest things that the head of this great government has done in many years.

Inflammatory German Journals and French bulletins were at their busiest after the two countries with no cause for a quarrel, and Germany was pretty well convinced that England was not waiting the first opportunity for an invasion of the German empire and the French were equally convinced that they would have to fight a war of aggression without England's help.

The danger of war recedes every day, but poor old Germany still clings under the shadow of the madman's fist. All signs point to a war that will continue for some time to come.

CONVICTS HAD THEIR LIBERTY HALF AN HOUR

Three Men Escape From Penitentiary But Are Quickly Recaptured.

DEPUTY WARDEN GOT THEM SINGLE-HANDED

Had Been Covered Up in Band Wagon—Quinty to Be Made.

Three prisoners made a bold dash for liberty from the Alberta penitentiary yesterday. All were recaptured and brought back to the gaol after about half an hour.

One of the convicts was at work hauling and from the main building to the yard, when one of the escapees, about 280 yards, was captured. Three men got into the wagon and were covered up with sand by their fellow prisoners. When the warden came to the door, he saw the three convicts spring to their feet and overpowered the driver, who was also covered up with sand by the warden and warden.

Escape Wagon.

The escape of the men was seen by Warden Macleary, by Shot-Instructor Truett and by one of the guards in the lookout tower. Shots were fired to warn the officials of the escape, and Deputy Warden Cummins with several guards started off in pursuit. Some of the men drove one of the mounted police also set out in pursuit, while messages were circulated by telephone to the outlying parts of the city.

Crashing the railway tracks the three escapees as far as the city inclosure, where they abandoned the horse and wagon and ran down. But their tracks were easily followed by the newly fallen men, and Deputy Warden Cummins was close on their tracks. Shots were fired by the pursuing guard, but without being so excited for fear of hitting one of the prisoners.

Neatly single-handed.

Deputy Warden Cummins came up with the convicts where they had laid down in the bush, hoping that the guards would pass them by. Single-handed the deputy warden captured them under arrest and marched them back to the penitentiary, where they were safely incarcerated again after little more than half an hour's liberty.

The names of the prisoners were F. Patterson, who was sentenced to three years for fraud in 1908; J. J. Macleary, who was sentenced to three years for larceny in 1908; and J. J. Macleary, who was sentenced to three years for larceny in 1908.

A considerable number of the prisoners are employed outside the walls of the penitentiary in coal mining and other work. The warden was being helped by the warden's house, where some plastering work is being done. An investigation will be held to discover the complicity of the prisoners who covered the three men up in the wagon.
